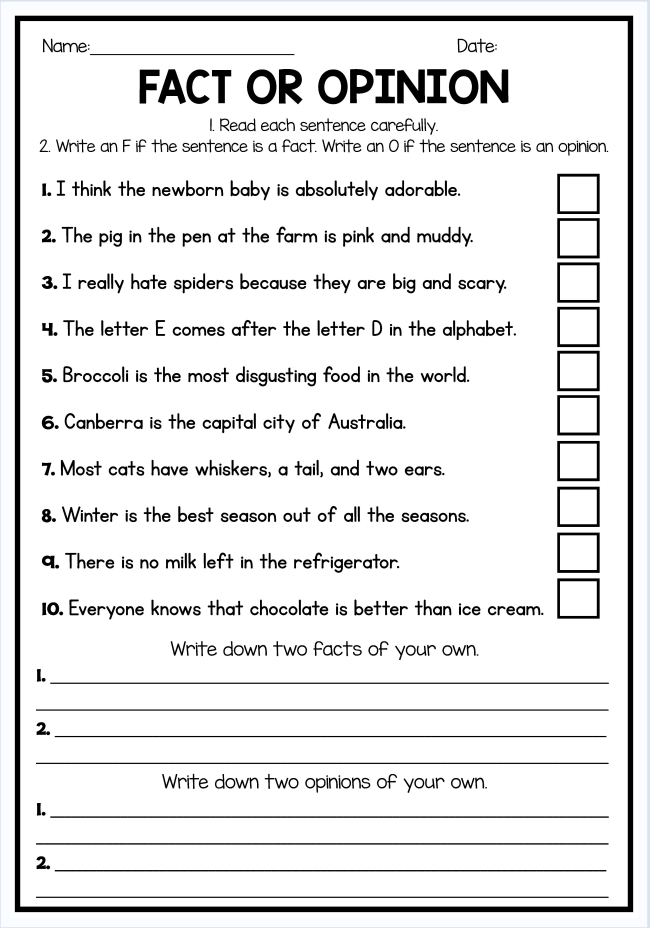
19 Fact vs Opinion Worksheet Ideas

Free Printable Preview | 14+ High-Resolution Sheets Available



Name:_____ Date:

FACT OR OPINION

1. Read each sentence carefully.
2. Write an F if the sentence is a fact. Write an O if the sentence is an opinion.

1. I think the newborn baby is absolutely adorable. ☐
2. The pig in the pen at the farm is pink and muddy. ☐
3. I really hate spiders because they are big and scary. ☐
4. The letter E comes after the letter D in the alphabet. ☐
5. Broccoli is the most disgusting food in the world. ☐
6. Canberra is the capital city of Australia. ☐
7. Most cats have whiskers, a tail, and two ears. ☐
8. Winter is the best season out of all the seasons. ☐
9. There is no milk left in the refrigerator. ☐
10. Everyone knows that chocolate is better than ice cream. ☐

Write down two facts of your own.

1. _____
2. _____

Write down two opinions of your own.

1. _____
2. _____

Printing & Usage Overview

As a parent or educator, teaching kids the difference between facts and opinions can be a tricky task. It's an essential skill, but finding engaging ways to practice can be a challenge. That's where a fact vs opinion worksheet comes in handy! With these printable resources, you can make learning fun and interactive. Check out 26 Printable Worksheets for Letter V for some great options, including fact or opinion exercises. Fact and Opinion: Psychedelic Planet Facts and Opinions: Distinguishing Truth from Perception Teaching children the difference between facts and opinions is a fundamental skill that lays the foundation for critical thinking and media literacy. While it may seem straightforward to adults, kids often need guidance to understand the nuances between objective statements and subjective viewpoints. That's where fact vs opinion worksheets come into play, offering an engaging and interactive way to

Get All 14+ High-Resolution Printable Sheets (Free):

https://mdibble.ime.calpoly.edu/fact-vs-opinion-worksheet

Personal & classroom use only. Set printer scale to Actual Size for best clarity.